

While supplies last, we're offering FREE extended-loan ProSlate™ AAC Evaluation Kits!

Are you a speech-language pathologist who frequently conducts AAC evaluations? Does your facility or group perform AAC assessments to determine which type of device is most appropriate for individuals? Do you have access to an iPad or iPad mini? If so, this program is specifically designed for you!

Forbes AAC is now offering extended-loan AAC evaluation kits to SLPs and facilities at no cost! This means that you can have a ProSlate™ AAC device in your possession, ready to use for your evaluations and assessments.

The devices in our iOS-based ProSlate series are rapidly becoming the most widely chosen AAC devices available today. With their five year warranties, SoundPOD™ wearable voice output modules, and FlexABLE® handle and stands, it's easy to see why our ProSlates are the most functional AAC devices on the market!

With popular items like our ProSlates, the biggest challenge is meeting overwhelming demand to quickly get devices to SLPs, which is exactly why we have created this program. Now, qualifying SLPs and facilities can receive a complete ProSlate AAC evaluation kit at no cost!

What's in the kit?

- ProSlate 10™ or ProSlate 8™ Conversion Hardware (colors may vary)
 Our conversion hardware is an empty ProSlate shell into which you can insert an iPad or iPad mini to create a ProSlate device. We find that most SLPs and facilities already have an iPad and apps, so only the conversion hardware is required for a fully functional ProSlate device.
- FlexABLE® Handle and Stand
 This ergonomic innovation solves positioning and handling issues for anyone who interacts with the device, regardless of their level of dexterity. Unlike many other device stands, the FlexABLE Handle and Stand can be pushed or pulled into position using only gross motor movements.

- SoundPOD™ Wearable Voice Output Module

Unlike traditional AAC speaker design, our SoundPOD can be attached to the provided neck lanyard and worn, concealing it under clothing. This creates a more natural speaking experience, as communication partners will look at the AAC user instead of at the device. The SoundPOD can also be magnetically docked to the back of the device

- ProSlate™ Dual Port Charger

Our high-powered charger allows you to charge both your ProSlate™ and the SoundPOD™ using a single wall adapter.

- TRU-Hold™ Keyguards

We include two magnetic-inset keyguards with each AAC evaluation kit. Purpose-built for our ProSlate devices, our thick, soft-touch keyguards are invaluable to our clients' ability to access their devices by eliminating unwanted screen selections. Our keyguards' sleek, magnetic attachment is easily interchangeable, with no hinges or straps to break or wear down.

- Funding Support Kit

ProSlates are the world's first AAC devices to utilize an iPad and be approved by Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance. With that in mind, we provide you with a complete packet to expedite the funding process. The support kit includes sample reports, a CMN template, order forms and more!

How does the program work?

- Complete the ProSlate Evaluation application below and submit it to Forbes AAC.
- Upon approval, we'll ship you the complete AAC evaluation with installation instructions.
- As you use the device to perform evaluations, we'll be here to help you by offering implementation, funding and technical support!
